

University of Wisconsin-Madison IRB Fee Schedule

Effective Date: December 1, 2019

UW-Madison no longer charges IRB fees except as described in the table below. Please note:

- UW-Madison will not charge IRB fees when serving as the reviewing or single IRB for multisite studies. For more information, see the single IRB matrix.
- When UW-Madison cedes review to another institution (e.g., university), that institution may charge UW-Madison researchers for that review. The Reliance and Navigation Team (irbreliance@wisc.edu) can assist study teams in determining whether another institution may charge for IRB review.
- Independent IRBs have their own fee schedules and payment of those fees is managed by the sponsor, independent IRB, and UW study team.
- For questions about the IRB fee policy, please email vcrge@research.wisc.edu.

Reviewing IRB	Funding Source	Review Type	Fee	Notes
UW-Madison IRB	Industry	Continuing review	$ 1134	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • These fees apply ONLY to industry-sponsored studies already approved by a UW-Madison IRB • No IRB fees will be charged for fully or partially industry-sponsored studies submitted to a UW-Madison IRB after December 1, 2019 except as described below
		Amendments (changes) that do not involve updates to the Principal Investigator	$ 313
Independent (commercial) IRB	Industry	Institutional compliance review <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • One-time charge • Review completed as part of the cede review process 	$ 2000	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Effective December 1, 2019, all fully-industry sponsored studies must be reviewed by an independent IRB • Partially-industry sponsored studies may use an independent IRB and the full UW-Madison compliance review fee will be applied • Partially-industry sponsored studies may also use a UW-Madison IRB and no IRB fees will be charged for that review • For SBIR/STTR awards, please email irbreliance@wisc.edu for assistance in identifying the best reviewing IRB option