

L&S Annual Report on Program Review
Addendum to Annotated Summary of Reviews
11 August 2014

I. Response to Provost Memo, January 8, 2014.

In January, Provost DeLuca sent a memorandum to the deans concerning the backlog of academic program reviews, with the implicit expectation that schools and colleges would note three items on the program review agenda. L&S responses are provided below.

A. Process for Staying on Schedule With Program Reviews

L&S documentation related to the Academic Program Review process is publicly available and can be found in the L&S Administrative Gateway:

- Academic Program Review - An Overview - <https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/page.php?id=24811>
- L&S Guidelines for Program Review - <https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/page.php?id=24812>
- L&S Policy on Review of Certificate Programs - <https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/page.php?id=24813>
- L&S Academic Program Review - Frequently Asked Questions
<https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/page.php?id=24814>
- L&S Academic Program Review – Resources - <https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/page.php?id=24892>

This site also includes several documents related to the assessment of student learning, which is a key element of the Program Review process: <https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/search.php?q=assessment>.

As noted in the Overview document cited above, the L&S schedule for review is based on the Regent-mandated ten-year review period; however, the strategic approach adopted by L&S allows for factors that may accelerate or delay a review. For example:

- The academic program is housed in a unit that is in distress, has experienced disruptive leadership changes, or has undertaken a restructuring process. In all of these cases, a careful examination of academic programs is needed to plan for the future.
- The program is in a unit seeking to expand programming. In this case, if it has been a substantial time since the last review was conducted, a review of current programs will help the unit and the college understand our capacity for expansion.
- Several programs with similar academic program structures, related missions, or common purpose face similar challenges. Strategic review of these programs can facilitate discussion about opportunities to collaborate.
- Some units offer both accredited and “non-accredited” programs. Focused review of the non-accredited programs ensures that all academic programs are regularly examined.

Thus, scheduling reviews is not as simple as adhering to a simple 10-year review schedule, though the regular cycle is the starting point for annual decisions about which programs to review. The Assistant Dean for Academic Planning discusses the mandated schedule with the Dean and Associate Deans, who may suggest strategic changes. To stay on track, L&S seeks to complete at least 13 reviews per year. However, some reviews take longer to complete, and reviews can reveal challenges that make it difficult (or unwise) to maintain the intended pace. To compensate for this, L&S has many reviews under way so, overall, the college is able to achieve a regular rate of completion. Finally, L&S divisional Associate Deans have traditionally collaborated with their counterparts in the Graduate School concerning reviews of graduate programs. Since GFEC members serve on L&S review committees, maintaining a reasonable workload and pace for that body can also affect the completion rate of reviews.

B. Identifying lead designee for purposes of Program Reviews

In 2014-2015, L&S will share responsibility with CALS for reviewing the doctoral programs in Development, Sociology, and Urban and Regional Planning. L&S Associate Dean Greg Downey is working with CALS Associate Dean Dick Straub on these reviews.

- CALS will be the lead on: Development
- L&S will be the lead on: Sociology, Urban and Regional Planning

APC discussion of these programs will be scheduled for jointly convened CALS / L&S APC meetings.

C. Connection to Proposals to Create New or Revise Existing Programs

As noted above, L&S “strategic review” acknowledges that reviews may be requested when units are seeking to alter their program array, to demonstrate that the faculty has a clear understanding of existing programs before they can be augmented or altered. This is most likely when the existing programs are scheduled (or overdue) for review; we have found that the new UAPC practice of inquiring into recent reviews has motivated departments and programs to participate in timely completion of their reviews.

Special/Strategic Reviews

In Progress

- The Department of Classics has undertaken an extensive review of its programs (Classical Studies CRT; Classical Humanities BA/BS; Latin, Greek BA/BS, MA; Classics BA/BS, MA, PhD) and opportunities related to incorporation of biblical Hebrew faculty into that department. This will lead to requests for programmatic changes for graduate and undergraduate programs, which will be submitted with a “self-study” evaluating program quality and proposing changes. The Graduate Faculty Executive Committee has appointed an experienced committee member to work with the department as a consultant during the preparation of the proposals. L&S and the Graduate School anticipate that all program changes will be subject to a full review in five years.

- Like Classics, the Department of Comparative Literature and Folklore Studies has also reviewed the impact of combining faculty has had on its academic programs. The faculty has proposed programmatic changes for its graduate programs, and the Graduate Faculty Executive Committee has appointed an experienced committee member to work with the department as a consultant during the preparation of the proposals. L&S and the Graduate School anticipate that all program changes will be subject to a full review in five years. Review of all undergraduate programs (Comparative Literature BA/BS, Folklore CRT) will be convened after the graduate program proposals are submitted.
- Music (all majors, all certificates and degree programs) – Upon completion of its regular ten-year accreditation review by the National Association of Schools of Music, the School of Music (in consultation with L&S and the Graduate School) elected to undertake a comprehensive strategic planning exercise that will involve careful study of all majors, certificates and degree programs offered. That process is well under way, with a self-study to be submitted in January 2015 and committee review (including representatives from the Graduate School) to be conducted shortly thereafter.

To Be Convened: Title VI Center/DIS Partner Program Reviews

- The reinvention of the Division of International Studies is currently being implemented. These changes require a clear understanding of L&S and DIS responsibilities associated with certificate programs and majors associated with Title VI Area Studies Centers. As sole authority for the centers shifts to the reconfigured Division, L&S and the Division will need to develop an MOU describing the lines of authority for curriculum and student affairs administration, as is the case with other L&S programs offered through non-L&S units. Conducting program reviews at this time will not only clarify these lines of authority and responsibility, it will allow the Division and College to establish a shared understanding of current program quality and afford an opportunity to consider curricular issues that arise with these programs (e.g., overlap with other programs, compliance with institutional policy, DARS encoding, low enrollment/awards, high exception rates).

L&S proposes that all of these programs should be reviewed by L&S and DIS to evaluate program quality, understand resource demands and essential services required for academic program operations, and identify challenges and opportunities related to the academic mission of these units. However, since a comprehensive review of all of these academic programs in the coming year will strain resources (L&S Admin and DIS staff, GFEC committee members, and faculty involved in the centers), we propose to establish the following schedule for review:

2014-2015 (Fall) – This group of reviews will coincide with L&S discussions about the future of Asian studies in L&S, which involve the departments of East Asian Lang & Lit and Languages and Cultures of Asia.

- Asian Studies (BA/BS, concentrations in “East Asian Studies” and “Southeast Asian Studies”) Review should address high exception rate, and “East Asian Studies” concentration overlap with undergraduate major in EALL.
- East Asian Studies (CRT)
- South Asian Studies (CRT)
- Southeast Asian Studies (CRT, MA) Review should address high exception rates (CRT)

2014-2015 (Spring) – This group of reviews will address DIS interest in consolidating or reorganizing the current array of centers that focus on or relate to Europe and Eurasia.

- European Studies, Grad (CRT) and European Studies, Undergrad (CRT). Review should address extremely high UG CRT exception rate)
- REECA Studies (CRT, MA) Review should address high CRT exception rates, low enrollment MA.

2015-2016 (Fall) – All remaining programs will be reviewed.

- African Studies (CRT)
- Global Cultures (CRT) Review will be required to reopen admission to this program (UAPC deadline, March 2017).
- LACIS (BA/BS, MA) Review will should address high UG program exception rates
